

Mercury Fever Thermometer

EXCHANGE

Bring us your glass mercury fever thermometer and exchange it for a digital thermometer.*

FREE

Although it is an ingredient in many common products, mercury is toxic and can cause damage to the nervous system, brain, kidneys, liver and immune systems in humans and animals.

If a mercury thermometer breaks, the spilled mercury can be harmful to people who come into contact with it, especially children, and it should be regarded as hazardous waste and disposed of properly. You can help protect your family by trading in your mercury fever thermometer for a digital thermometer.

Day
Date
Time
Location
Location

This Mercury Fever Thermometer Exchange Program is sponsored by your community. You can also add sponsorship of a state agency or other organization in this space.

* Limit of one free digital thermometer per household, while supplies last.